Your best friend has just sent you the email below. Read it carefully and write an appropriate 125-word reply.

*Dear X,
Somebody told me you ran to the new department store on the first day of the sales. Typical of you, my friend! Please, give me all the details. Was the place as wonderful as everyone says? What about the prices? And the quality of the products? What kind of things did you buy? Would you advise me to go there too?
Tell me everything about it. You know how I love shopping!
Best wishes,
Percy*
