

COMPRESIÓ DE TEXTOS ESCRITS (CTE)

SENTENCE SELECTION. Read the following text and:

1) decide which sentences are TRUE and which are FALSE.

2) write the line(s) where the answers are found. Write the number of the line where the sentence BEGINS and the number of the line where the sentence ENDS.

NO marks are given for only TRUE or FALSE, or if you only write the line(s).

Personality Types

The keepers

1 People belonging in this category consider security and stability to be very important,
2 and therefore they are not fond of change. They also give importance to tradition and
3 believe that rules should be respected. They are individuals who can be very kind and
4 trustworthy, and they dislike breaking promises. They display patience and have a very
5 good ability to concentrate. They get disappointed if others let them down because it is 6 something that they try to avoid doing.
7 They pay attention to detail and can be very sensitive; however, sometimes they might find it
8 difficult to cope with criticism or conflict with other people.

The free spirits

9 This category describes people who are confident and spontaneous, and therefore 10 planning things is not their cup of tea. They are generally sociable, extrovert and direct.
11 They enjoy action. They don't enjoy theoretical ideas or philosophical discussions, which 12 they usually consider to be a bore. This category dislikes rules and laws and believes 13 them to be mere suggestions rather than strict principles that somebody should live by.
14 These individuals are usually optimistic and always work hard to achieve their goals.
15 However, they can get bored easily if something does not excite them.

The Scholars

16 This category describes personalities which exhibit a strong intuition and logic. These 17 are people who put reason above all other things. They are very rational and quick-witted
18 people and display excellent communication skills. People belonging to this category are 19 natural-born leaders because of their decisiveness and willpower. They dislike showing
20 emotions and consider them to be a sign of weakness. This does not mean that these 21 individuals cannot be compassionate; they can show understanding for people who are 22 suffering. However, it is an area which they could try to develop more. Some of the 23 individuals in this group can be very shy when meeting new people, but they are very 24 friendly when they interact with people they know. They are also individuals who can be 25 very honest but at times can also be considered rude.

The Dreamers

26 The people who belong in this category are very imaginative and observant. They are 27 usually people who are shy and introverted.
 28 They are emotional and believe that feelings should be expressed and not hidden. Some 29 of the people that have this personality type can be mesmerizing when giving a speech
 30 or talking to others, while others have excellent writing skills. They also don't like 31 conforming but prefer to take their own path instead of following others. However, their 32 sensitivity, which can make them overthink situations or other people's feelings, can 33 sometimes cause them a lot of stress.

		T / F	LINE(S)
1	Keepers value change and dislike tradition..
2	Free spirits enjoy planning and following rules.
3	Scholars prioritize emotions over reason.
4	Dreamers are extroverted and outgoing.
5	Keepers are patient and have good concentration skills.
6	Free spirits find philosophical discussions boring.
7	Scholars possess innate leadership qualities.
8	Dreamers prefer to conform and follow others.
9	Keepers strongly avoid going back on their word.
10	Scholars tend to be reserved when meeting new people.

KEY

SENTENCE SELECTION (CTE)- Personality Types

		T / F	LINE(S)
1	Keepers value change and dislike tradition..	F	1-2
2	Free spirits enjoy planning and following rules.	F	9-10
3	Scholars prioritize emotions over reason.	F	16-17
4	Dreamers are extroverted and outgoing.	F	26-27
5	Keepers are patient and have good concentration skills.	T	4-5
6	Free spirits find philosophical discussions boring.	T	11-12
7	Scholars possess innate leadership qualities.	T	18-19
8	Dreamers prefer to conform and follow others.	F	30-31
9	Keepers strongly avoid going back on their word.	T	3-4
10	Scholars tend to be reserved when meeting new people.	T	22-23