Good afternoon everyone. Before we start our programme of music, I have a very exciting announcement for those of you who love fashion and are between the ages of 14 and 18. So, you're probably familiar with the work of the photographer Mike Jones. No? Well, he has a fashion photography blog that's been making news lately. He's also been involved in several important advertising campaigns. So I'm sure you've seen his work even if you don't realise it. Look him up, my friends!

Well, the really exciting news is that he is in town and he wants to feature our city on his blog next week. And he's particularly interested in young people's fashion. So he's having a sort of casting call if you will. I mean, he wants all of you teenagers with unique style to show up at the square in front of the Art Museum so he can photograph you. Help him feature his favourite photos on his blog all week next week.

And if you're familiar with his blog, you'll know he's not looking for fashion models. He's looking for all shapes, sizes, colours and all different styles of dress, girls and boys both. So, girls, bring on your friends. Make sure they show up. And if you're not familiar with his blog, by all means check it out. He almost always features unique looks. People who dress like themselves and not quite like anyone else. OK. The costume call begins at 10 am Sunday morning and once again you're to assemble in the square in front of the museum. And since you're all minors, you must download a release form from Mr Jones's website and get your parents to sign it. Don't forget this form. If you do, he won't be able to use those brilliant photos he's going to take.

For more information, you can visit his website www.stylechapper.com or call an enquiry line. Let's see, I have the number here somewhere... Yes, it's 394 944 9025. Did you get that? 394 944 9025. I'll be there with the Star Athem and I'll join the event. So, I hope to see you there.
